A dot on a quarter note gives the beat $1\frac{1}{2}$ beats. It will feel the same as if you tie 3 eighth notes together and count, "1 & 2." The measure the arrow is pointing to will sound like the rhythm in Jingle Bells when we'd sing, "Jingle all the way."

THERE'S A HOLE IN THE BUCKET

When there are pick up notes, the last measure is missing the number of beats included in the pick up notes.
